Meeting Core

Chief Lasnier and Deputy Police Chief Williams provided a presentation titled "The Nature of the Suquamish Police, Now and the Future" to the gathered audience. He discussed the Patrol, Marine Patrol and other divisions of department. Questions from the audience spanned discussion of:

- Mental health police response and the state of support to this concern locally
- Hiring and funding challenges in Washington State (and locally)
- Chief Lasnier noted current laws are challenging to all WA State Police but there is a legislative session coming and the hope is that the laws will be corrected appropriately. Commissioner Gelder concurred, that WA State politicians are challenged with a limited legislative session and being able to make the right decisions in that abbreviated time (rather than be "year-round" politicians that have time to fully understand the issues and address them appropriately).
- The MOA with the County is working well and appreciated by all stakeholders after five years of run time.
- Are tribal individuals that are jailed offered the same services for medical and youth care as the County? Chief answered yes, and sometimes even more due to their tribal status.

Darren G. from Kitsap County gave a presentation on Kitsap County Zoning Changes. The proposed changes are intended to increase housing equity and diversity, increase economic development, and makes the code easier for use. The Project is completing the Analysis phase in July and will enter “Consideration” phase from July 2021-March 2022. The PowerPoint presentation (along with other documents) will be made available in the future on the County DCD website [<https://tinyurl.com/ZoningUseTableUpdate>].
