SR 104 Hood Canal Bridge to close 3 hours for storm training

SHINE – From 10 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 24, to 1 a.m. Friday, Jan. 25, motorists will encounter a total closure of the State Route 104 Hood Canal Bridge for annual training.

The training prepares Washington State Department of Transportation Hood Canal Bridge maintenance crews for specific bridge activities related to winter storms. The training is conducted at night when traffic volumes are lighter. Due to the nature of the training, the bridge will be closed to all traffic for the entire three hours. WSDOT will work with emergency responders to provide access across the bridge when possible.

Drivers are encouraged to sign up for WSDOT email updates and check the WSDOT Hood Canal Bridge web page for up to the minute bridge information. Other driver tools include self-subscribing for Hood Canal Bridge text messages using the instructions below:

- Send a text message to 468311 with the words "wsdot hood"
